Zephorium

SOUL TONIC

A luxury range of natural products based on energy attraction and positive thinking. Each bottle posses a powerful combination of natural and organic ingredients, aromatherapy blends, colour, homeopathic crystals and affirmations that all compliment the chakras.

The Zephorium range

Unique skincare products based on energy attraction and positive thinking containing all natural, vegan and increasingly organic ingredients.

- ♥ Aura Sprays
- ♥ Natural Perfume
- ♥ Massage & Body Oils
- ♥ Essential Oil Blends

All tonics come in 8 colour ways which all contain pure, natural ingredients, along with homeopathic crystal energy, affirmations, specific colours and scents, that complement the chakras.

Positive Thinking

Zephorium believe that our thoughts create reality! Positive affirmations help to change our focus and take back control of our lives. On the back of each bottle there is a powerful affirmation. As you rub these fabulous oils into your skin or you spray the aura sprays around you, repeat the affirmations as often as possible. Then sit back and enjoy the sensations and allow your positive thoughts to radiate through your skin.

The Chakras

Each tonic is designed to suit a specific chakra. The affirmations have been written to relate to the chakras and the specific trauma and healing of each one. Some people choose their tonic based on physical ailments, emotional stresses, feelings or even intuition. It is best to let your body guide you.

Each crystal and aromatherapy oil represents individual properties too which can help harmonise the mind, body and spirit. There is no right or wrong tonic for a person. It may just be your favourite colour. Plus they make great personal gifts to give to loved ones.

It is proven to relax the user and may help with the symptoms of anxiety, stress and pain relief. As well as the side effects associated with insomnia, chemotherapy, arthritis and skin conditions such as Eczema and Psoriasis.

The science bit explained...

What is SLS?

SLS stands for Sodium Lauryl Sulphate which is a chemical. Typically found in shampoos, shower gels, bubble baths, basically SLS is a very effective additive to anything that is expected to foam up. It removes natural oils from the skin and can cause dryness.

What is a Paraben?

Parabens used in cosmetics are a group of chemicals synthetically produced for preserving the product. There is still much debate on the safe use of Parabens in cosmetics, however research into their safe use continues.

The effects of chemicals in skincare

Around 60% of products applied to our skin are absorbed in to it. The average woman applies over 200 chemicals to her skin daily. Anything absorbed through the skin, can be up to ten times the concentration of an equivalent oral dose, which would ordinarily be filtered by our liver and enzymes in the stomach.

“It takes around five seconds for a product to be absorbed through the skin and into the bloodstream.

That's enough to make you go natural

Our favourite ingredients...

Argan oil

Argan Oil is believed to be the rarest oil in the world with one tree yielding just one litre of oil per year. The tree itself is one of the rarest species of trees in the world, only found in its natural habitat in Southern Morocco. With one of the highest known contents of Vitamin E in the natural world, it protects the skin against the effects of ageing as well as decreasing inflammation, scarring and the appearance of stretch marks.

Avocado

Avocado is very high in sterolins (plant steroids), which are reputed to reduce age spots, help heal sun damage and scars. It helps to soften the skin and has a superior moisturising effect. An ideal ingredient for dehydrated, or damaged skin assisting in regeneration and rejuvenation. Avocado also helps relieve the dryness and itching of Psoriasis and Eczema.
